

Teacher is a catalyst who initiates learning process in students. He is the only person who can ignite the passion of learning among the students by getting himself involved with the students.

Subhash Dutta
Jaipuria Institute of Management

A teacher affects eternity. He can never tell where his influence stops. Good teaching is more like giving of right questions rather than giving right answers. Role of teacher becomes more significant in contemporary world.

Nirmal Panwar
Mahatma Jyotirao Phule Institutions

I believe in contemporary scenario. A teacher should be instrumental in helping students unlearn, learn and relearn. Moreover, he or she has to go beyond conventional mode of teaching and instill various life skills in students. Today a teacher has to be a trainer who is a strong believer in value creation in society through his compassion, content and character.

Vinay Modi
PT Education

The role of a teacher has changed over a period of time and today he is much more than a classroom teacher. He is a friend, a parent, a guardian and helps a student in his overall development.

Rajeev Biyani
Biyani Girls College

Teaching is the profession that teaches all other professions. In teaching you can not see the fruit of day's work. Teachers are expected to reach unattainable goals with their inadequate tools. At times they accomplish impossible tasks.

Siddharth Gupta
GT Computers

Teacher is appreciated not only for professional development of the students but also the industrial adaptation of the human power. Teacher is the person who identifies and promotes all visible and hidden qualities among the students. As we know that the first creative efficiency is developed by the parents and social relatives but to fulfill it to last surviving point is the responsibility of a teacher only.

Rolika Singh
Arena multimedia C-scheme

Today, the teacher is no longer an academic leader but he or she has to play every role that of a guardian, friend, guide, philosopher etc. Teacher not only imparts knowledge to the student but also play a major role in building a civilised society.

Madhavdev Saraswat
Parasrampur Gems International School

The resurgent youth of India is all set to bring about the transformation. All they need is someone to look up to, someone to believe in them and motivate them all the way.

Kritika Sharma
Insight Education.